PREPARING CHRIST-LIKE SERVANT LEADERS
Admission

Anyone desiring to apply for admission to Penn View Bible Institute should follow the instruction listed below for each form. Provided he or she meets the requirements for admissions, a person of any gender, race, color, age, ethnic origin, or disability may be admitted to the school. Because of the unique philosophy and purpose of Penn View Bible Institute, however, only those who give evidence of being genuine Christians and whose lives are in harmony with the principles and standards of the Institute will be considered for admission. Any student failing to maintain a consistent Christian life, including the expression of proper Christian attitudes, may be asked to discontinue attendance.

The primary educational requirement for admission to Penn View Bible Institute is graduation from high school. This requirement may alternatively be met by achieving satisfactory scores on the General Educational Development Test (GED).

ACT or SAT test Scores should be forwarded to the Admissions Office (ACT college code, 3661; SAT college code, 2639).

All entering freshmen will be tested as part of their orientation. The test results will be used in guidance and placement of the student.

The individual seeking admission should take the following steps:

1. Submit Application for Admission ($25.00 non-refundable application fee must accompany application), and recent photograph or snapshot.
2. Write and submit the essay as described on the Application for Admission.
3. Obtain volunteers to submit Character References and list their names and addresses on the Application for Admission. One should be the pastor of the applicant. None should be a relative of the applicant.
4. Using the Transcript Request Form, the applicant should request that his high school send an official copy of his transcript directly to Penn View Bible Institute. Transcripts from all schools attended after high school must also be submitted. If additional copies are needed, photocopies of this form may be made.
5. The Student Handbook will be sent to applicant upon receipt of Application for Admission. Please review the specified sections. Sign and return one copy of the Student Handbook Agreement.
6. The Work Scholarship Application is only for applicants interested in on-campus work. Applicant will be notified of Work Scholarship decision following acceptance. Scholarships will be granted according to financial need and availability of positions.
7. A health form will be sent to the applicant upon receipt of application for admission. The applicant and a medical doctor (M.D. or D.O.) should complete this form. The physician must return the completed health form to Penn View Bible Institute.
8. The prospective student will be notified promptly of the decision of the Admissions Committee.

Note: The application deadlines are Fall Term - August 1; Spring Term - December 15. Applications sent after these deadlines should be accompanied by a late application fee of $35.00 instead of $25.00.

Re-admission

Any student who discontinues attendance for one or more semesters must submit an application for readmission with the Academic Dean by the application deadline of the semester he plans to re-enroll. No re-admission fee is charged except in the case of late application, for which there is a fee of $5.00.

Financial Information

All students are required to arrange for full payment at the time of registration. This may be in the form of a single payment at registration, or, in the form of monthly installment payments as provided in our deferred payment option. Terms of the various payment plans are described below.

A. A 2% cash discount will be given for all accounts paid in full at registration or within thirty days after registration.

B. A minimum down payment is required at registration. This amount is equal to 20% of the total semester charges or the total of all fees whichever is greater. All previous years charges must be paid in full before registering for fall semester.

C. The balance of the account is payable in four equal monthly installments over the course of the semester. Such installments are due on the fifteenth of each month according to the following schedule:

First Semester – 15th of September, October, November, December
InterSession – 15th of January
Second Semester – 15th of February, March, April, May

D. Monthly finance charges may be added to accounts with outstanding balances at the close of the academic year.

E. The administration reserves the right to adjust the published fee schedule at any time without prior notice.

LIFE-STYLE AGREEMENT

If accepted as a student at Penn View Bible Institute, I promise to be subject to the rules of the school governing the education, social, and spiritual life of the student body. I agree not to teach any doctrine, personal belief or conviction, or special view or practice that is not in agreement with the accepted position of Penn View Bible Institute as approved by its Board of Directors; nor to press them upon my fellow students.

Hebrews 13:17 states, “Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit your selves; for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief; for that is unprofitable for you.” In the light of this scripture, I will readily submit to those who are in a position of authority at Penn View Bible Institute, as long as I remain a student there.

Student Handbook Agreement

Please review the designated sections in the Student Handbook before signing the following. (The Student Handbook will be sent to you once PVBI receives your Application for Admission)

Mail the top half of this form to the address below.

If accepted as a student at Penn View Bible Institute, I promise to be subject to the rules of the school governing the education, social, and spiritual life of the student body.

I have reviewed the Student Handbook, especially section II.A. (pages 4-5), section IV (pages 6-9), section VI (pages 13-18), and I agree to abide by these rules.

I agree not to teach any doctrine, personal belief or conviction, or special view or practice that is not in agreement with the accepted position of Penn View Bible Institute as approved by its Board of Directors; nor to press them upon my fellow students.

Hebrews 13:17 states, “Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves; for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief; for that is unprofitable for you.” In the light of this scripture, I will readily submit to those who are in a position of authority at Penn View Bible Institute, as long as I remain a student there.

The question of Financial Aid presses in on the horizon. Can I afford to go to college? How will I pay for my education?

One of the Christian worker’s greatest life-lessons is learning to trust God. How will I survive in the ministry? Who will pay the bills? How will I provide for my family? How can I undertake so much responsibility? Am I sufficient for this ministry? The questions do not go away after you finish Bible school!

Scripture promises, “My God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus” (Phil.4:19). The best time to learn that lesson is right during Bible school.

Friends of Penn View Bible Institute have provided a number of scholarships to help. A Work Scholarship program offers assistance. You’ll have to work and you’ll have to pray, but you can make it! Don’t be afraid to trust God!

On the following pages, you will find information about several of the scholarships that are available at Penn View. Let’s see what the Lord will do for you! When you realize that the supply comes from His Hand, you will not mind living “from hand to mouth.”

Come join other students who have been learning that “Our God Is Enough.”

Dear Prospective Student:

The Work Scholarship program is designed to assist worthy young people in preparing for service in God’s kingdom. Because this is a limited program, we request each applicant to submit pertinent information on the application, for our use in determining need and awarding scholarships.

Under the Work Scholarship, tuition, room, and board are paid by the school for work performed. Books, fees, music lessons, and personal expenses are not covered. Work scholarship students receive credit toward their school accounts on a per-hour basis. Three hours of work are required each week of all dormitory students, so the first three hours of work each week will be applied toward this obligation. All the hours over three per week will be applied toward the student’s school account at an hourly rate.

Since this is a “scholarship” program, the student must maintain a minimum grade point average of 2.0 (C) in order to remain on the program. If a student fails to meet this requirement, one semester will be given to overcome this deficiency. A student under this program should expect to take longer to complete his education, since a reduced course load is sometimes required.

The required Work Hours must be a high priority in the student’s life just the same as other outside employment.

Yours for Christian Education,

Timothy L. Cooley, Sr., Ed.D.
Academic Dean
